Dr Grace is a dedicated and caring doctor who enjoys providing holistic care to patients and their families. She has been with The Local Doctor Ivanhoe since its founding in 2018, and is committed to building long term therapeutic relationships with her patients, working together with them to improve their health.

After obtaining her medical degree at the University of Melbourne in 2013 and gaining fellowship of the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners, Dr Grace pursued further training in her areas of special interests. Dr Grace holds a Diploma of Skin Cancer Medicine and Dermoscopy, and Certificates in Skin Cancer Surgery. She also holds a Diploma of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. Her special interests include women's health, skin cancer medicine, minor procedures, paediatrics and preventative health. In her spare time, Dr Grace enjoys playing tennis and spending time with her energetic toddler.
